MRS. DEETER DIES SUDDENLY

Taken suddenly ill on Monday evening, while enroute from Los Angeles to Covina on the interurban car, Mrs. Elizabeth Florence Deeter, one of the women of pioneer days in the valley, expired on Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Wine, with whom she had made her home for the past twelve years. She was 76 years old.

The funeral was held yesterday (Thursday) at 2:30 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. J. W. Utter, pastor of the First Christian church. Appropriate hymns were sung by Prof. and Mrs. B. P. Stout. Rev. Utter spoke very feelingly of the long life of Christian usefulness which this woman had lived in this valley, and of the many genuine friends she had made in her associations in church and home.

Mrs. Deeter was born in South Bend, Indiana, St. Joseph county, March 11, 1842. She came to Covina with her children from Kansas in 1885. During the past twelve years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Wine. There was little reason to believe that she was nearing her end, until she made the trip to Los Angeles with her daughter on Monday.

The deceased leaves several children, who are Charles Deeter, of Covina, Mrs. I. D. Houser, of San Dimas, Mrs. Bert Knight of Redlands, Mrs. Phillip Deetrick of Modesto, and J. E. Deeter of Carlisle, Arkansas, all of whom with the exception of the latter were at the funeral. The funeral arrangements were made by Mr. Froggatt of the Covina Funeral Parlors.

The pall-bearers were Thomas Finch, E. G. Prather, J. M. Whitsel, Otto Anderson, George Scofield and W. P. Nye.

"RAINBOW SPIRIT OF YOUTH" FASCINATING LECTURE

The audience last Thursday evening at the High school, composed largely of mothers, fathers and teachers, were thoroughly repaid by the excellence and vital value of the lecture on the problems of adolescence by Mrs. Viola McCloskey Waddle, of Hollywood, a widely known and popular speaker.

To the parents and teachers who had experienced the contradictions, the impulses and problems of the 'teen age, boy and girl, the brilliant and wholly sympathetic discussion was most helpful. Simply, clearly and accurately the pent-up emotions of the boy who feels some of the ambitions and aims of the man were sketched, "Burley" a real boy being drawn skillfully in glowing words. The story of a gang was also told, with a peculiar and unusual understanding of the psychological reasons therefor.

Witty, dramatic and sincere, Mrs. Waddle made an intensely strong plea for a better understanding, a more sympathetic comradeship between parents and these so near men and women, who have yet so much to learn, and who deserve to be dealt with honestly, frankly and in straightforward fashion. With years of special study and experience upon which to base her conclusions, Mrs. Waddle combines an unusual ability and delightful personality, making her not only effective but a most attractive speaker, and it is hoped that she may be heard here again.

Miss Imogene Arthur, opened the evening's program with a well rendered piano solo, "Soaring," by Schuman. Mr. Saunders, one of the patriotic speakers sent out by the Patriotic League of the city, followed Mrs. Waddle, with a ringing appeal to everyone to rise to the national crisis, to be not only ready and willing, but anxious to do all possible for our country. Mr. Saunders spoke vigorously and earnestly and was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Mary M. Coman, of the School Mothers, presided at the meeting, which took the place of the usual afternoon program at the Reed school.

CHEF WYMAN GIVES PRACTICAL COOKERY HINTS

Chef Wyman will give his fourth and last demonstration in the club-house this afternoon. He will prepare Jewish filled fish, conservation doughnuts, a new cake, and oatmeal cookies. His demonstrations during the week have been of the most practical sort, giving new, simple and varied ideas in the preparation of meats, pastries, vegetables, salads and desserts. All the dishes have been sold and the proceeds turned over to the local Red Cross society. Chef Wyman has had twenty-one years' experience in the largest hotels and cafes in the world, and many of his ideas were obtained from foreign chefs. He is demonstrating an electric stove for the Edison electric company.

WILL PRINT NAMES OF LOAN SUBSCRIBERS

With the committee working determinedly for an additional $10,000 to wind up the Liberty loan for Covina city and valley, reports yesterday were favorable, but with an extraordinary effort ahead for the coming week.

A full list of the men, women and children who have subscribed to date is in type in the Argus office, and will be printed next week. It was decided that it would be better to postpone the printing of this honor roll for a week, because of the fact that a number of subscribers have not had time to make initial payments at the banks, which would temporarily exclude their names.

The payment of $2.50 for a fifty dollar bond puts the subscriber's name on the honor roll. That honor roll is to be a valuable document in the years to come.

Sunday's Program At Christian Church

The following will be the day's program Sunday at the Christian church: At the Bible-school Prof. B. P. Stout will sing: "Do You Love Jesus?" "The Old-Fashioned Way," and will relate the story of the three young men in the Book entitled "The Comrade in White."

Sunday morning service: Prof. B. P. Stout will sing: "The Plains of Peace," by Barnard. "Who Will Answer For Me?" The choir will sing by request, "Christ Arose."

Sermon by the pastor. Sunday evening, 7:30: Prof. B. P. Stout will give his "Sermon In Song," entitled "Mother, Home and Heaven," including the following songs:

"I, John, Saw the Holy City," "The Holy City," "The City Four-Square," "Think of What Mother Has Said," "A Mother's Goodbye," duet by Prof. and Mrs. Stout.

"My Old Country Home." The choir will sing "That Beautiful Home."

This will be Prof. and Mrs. Stout's last service in this campaign. Come and bring a friend. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Utter, will speak. Subject, "Heaven." —Adv.

BOY SCOUTS MOBILIZE FOR LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

William Colver, scoutmaster for troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, will direct the campaign of the boys which begins today for the Liberty loan. He says that the motto of the Boy Scouts, "Be Prepared," is to be extended to the people of the valley, and that they must be prepared to meet the Scouts more than half way in their subscriptions. This drive is one participated in by all Scouts in the United States.

C. F. Clapp of Clapp's drug store, was the first man to respond on a general call issued Tuesday night at nine o'clock by Constable J. J. Saunders for the assembling of the Covina Valley Home Guard. Mr. Clapp closed his store and arrived at the Irwindale packing house in nine minutes. Shortly afterward there were a dozen more men in automobiles responded.

It was a practice call, and came after nearly a year of inactivity. Many ranchers and business men who are deputized by the sheriff of Los Angeles county in this district were under the impression that the organization no longer existed. The sheriff and Constable Saunders both say that the organization is very much alive and very important.

All those who were originally sworn in are expected to respond. The recent burning of a packing house at Lindsay, the work of disgruntled workmen, is an example of the need of the local organization.

Constable Saunders says that he will issue another practice call at a later date, and that it would be a good idea for all men to notify the folks at home just where they will be found when leaving home.

SEASON FOR BEAN PLANTING

The Puente Mercantile Company, which handled $750,000 worth of beans grown in the valley last year, is making the announcement this week that the time for planting of Lady Washington beans is from May 1 to May 15, and blackeye beans from June 1 to June 15.

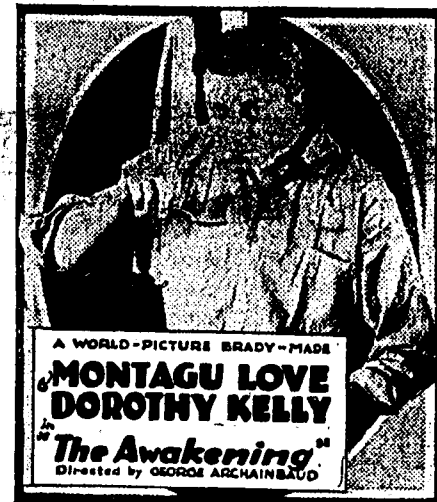

This necessitates that the ranchers get their supply of seed at once, and the company has anticipated the need of seed and has it in stock at the warehouse in Puente.

The national food commission is urging the farmers of California to plant an even larger acreage to beans this year than last year. It is probable that the minimum price that will be paid by the government for military purposes will be ten cents the pound, but may be higher. This will make it possible for all ranchers to combine patriotism with profit.

Where a little over 6,000 acres were planted in the San Gabriel valley last year, a large part of which was handled by the Puente Mercantile Company, it is expected that there will be 10,000 acres this year. The prospect for a good bean season with an assured market was never better, according to the men who handle beans on the Pacific Coast. The Puente Mercantile Company stands ready to give any information about planting, cultivation and harvesting.

COMING WEEK'S PROGRAM AT STAR THEATRE

The Star theater program for the coming week includes Charlie Chaplin on Monday night in "Easy Street," with a Max Sennett comedy entitled "A Pullman Bride"; Dorothy Dalton on Tuesday night in "Love Letters," with Pathe news; Robert Warwick and

Gail Kane on Wednesday night in "The Heart of a Hero"; Montagu Love and Dorothy Kelly on Thursday night in "The Awakening," with Burton Holmes' travels; and Marguerite Clarke on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon in "Bab's Matinee Idol."

Tonight and tomorrow night the theatre is showing Douglas Fairbanks in "Reaching For the Moon."

Charles Wetzel, who has been located for the past three months at a ranch at the corner of Citrus avenue and Broadway, and Mrs. Genevieve French, who has been employed for a similar period at the Stag lunch-room in Covina, were married this week. The ceremony was performed Wednesday at the home of relatives in Ontario.

REPORTS ON FLOUR WITHIN FIVE DAYS.

J. L. Matthews, who has been handling the reports on flour products for the communities of Covina and Puente for the office of the Southern California food administration, wishes to extend thanks to the people for the prompt manner in which ninety-nine per cent have made reports on the amount of flour on hand in households. The people have responded cheerfully, making the necessary work much more pleasant than would otherwise have been the case.

The few householders who have not yet made a report have been segregated by comparison with the reports received. These are urged to make their reports within the next five days, as the orders from the head office are peremptory, and must be complied with.

Eight Covina Men In Draft Today

The following men from the Covina city and valley go forward this morning in the draft to American Lake, Washington:

PERLEY G. DUNN, employed here as laborer.

GEORGE PERKINS, employed by E. G. Hotchkiss, Reliable garage.

HARRY SNODGRASS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snodgrass of the San Bernardino road.

WILLIAM BOOK, a rancher, whose former residence was at the corner of Grand and Cienega.

BERNARD GRIMALVA, son of Mrs. L. Y. Grimalva, Citrus avenue. In this draft the name of Gerard Devol was included, but he has been exempted temporarily on account of the accident last Saturday in which he sustained a broken collar bone.

The men left Covina at 6:45 this (Friday) morning, and will take a train at 9:45 o'clock in Los Angeles for Camp Lewis, American Lake.

W. C. T. U.

On account of the annual county convention of the white ribboners at Long Beach this week, the regular meeting of the local union will be deferred until next week Friday afternoon, when, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Utter, corner of Italia and Second, reports from the convention will be given. Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. J. L. Matthews, Mrs. J. V. Smith, Miss Minna Biesecker and Mrs. Coman were among those going down for a day or more from this union.

Members and friends attending next week's meeting are asked to bring their knitting or sewing, although it is expected that needlework will be provided as it is planned to do some relief work for the French orphans. An attractive program, with special music has been planned for the afternoon and all interested are most cordially invited to attend.

COVINA HIGH WINS CHAMPIONSHIP
DEBATING IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Covina High is holding one celebration after another these days. Things have been happening so thick and fast lately, that we hardly know where we are. The fact remains, however, that we are now the proud possessors of the Southern California championship in debating.
Last Friday night Covina and Alhambra debated off the tie existing between them for the southern title, and the results give us the honor. The affirmative and negative teams exchanged places this time, our affirmative team going to Alhambra. Milton Phillee and Freedom Olsen, members of the affirmative team, proved too much for the Alhambra duo, and the result was a 4 to 1 decision for Covina. At Covina, our negative team, Henry Hepner and Donald Warner, won the decision 4 to 1.
Ten judges were employed altogether, five at each place. The reason for this unusual arrangement was to prevent the likelihood of a tie. Covina took eight of the ten judges, satisfying even the most doubtful of the justice of the decision.
Two weeks from tonight, May 10th, the big debate will be held at Berkeley for the state championship. Harold Nigg and Donald Warner will be the team to go from Covina.
BASEBALL. Last Friday afternoon our second league game was played with Monrovia at Covina. Incidentally, we might mention that the score was 2 to 1 in favor of Covina. It was by far the most exciting and close game that Covina has played and the umpire told us afterward that the game was the best one he had ever witnessed between two high schools.
Monrovia scored a run in their half of the first inning. In the fourth, Pitzer crossed the plate on Jessup's single to center. After this neither team was able to score, although several desperate attempts were made. However, in the last half of the ninth, with the score tied, Jackson singled. Haralson advanced him to second. McKay bounced a pretty single over second, and Jackson came home, thus ending the feverish excitement.

Dick Jackson pitched himself out of many a pinch, and clearly demonstrated his ability to all.
Last Tuesday afternoon another league game was played. Covina defeated Franklin on the Pasadena avenue playground in Los Angeles, by a score of 5 to 1. Dick Jackson was again the big hero, pitching himself out of tight places when runs meant victory. The game was a good one, Covina making four runs in the first inning. After this the score was held down on both sides.
TENNIS. The girls of the tennis team defeated Monrovia last Saturday morning. We sincerely believe that they are on their way to another championship.
Wednesday morning Miss Ruth Dowling sang for us. She sang the following songs, which were greatly appreciated:
"An Open Secret," Woodman";
"To a Messenger," La Forge.
Prof. Stout, the singing evangelist, also contributed to the program. He sang:
"A Perfect Day," Carrie Jacobs Bond.
"The Bugler," Pinsuti.
"The Lost Chord," Sullivan.
"The Brewer's Big Horses."
"The Holy City," Gaul.
DONALD WARNER, '18.

WALNUT ASSOCIATION
PRINTS ANNUAL REPORT
A total of 4,500 acres of walnuts, owned by 202 members, is the report made to the directors and stockholders of La Puente Walnut Growers Association by Secretary Robert H. Neely, which has been printed by the Argus print shop this week.
This is 99 1-2 percent of the total walnut acreage of the San Gabriel valley east of the river, and is the largest acreage of any association in the state. The local organization is affiliated with the California Walnut Growers Association, a body which performs a function for the walnut growers similar to that of the California Fruit Growers Exchange for the citrus growers.
The gross value of the crop in this association last year was very close to $200,000. The valley shared in the heavy loss occasioned by the hot wave last summer. Had it not been for the heat, the valley would have set the largest crop in history, the secretary states.
The grower received a net return of $370 per ton. The high cost of production and harvesting, due to the war prices for labor cut down the net returns as related to the previous year. The heat-wave caused the industry to suffer through an unprecedented amount of culls, which were utilized by putting them through the new cracking process of the California Walnut Growers Association. The coming year the local association will do all culling at the Puente plant.

HOUSES AND POLES
SWAY IN QUAKE
A few bricks from the tops of chimneys fell to the ground, and buildings careened and swayed on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Covina, as a result of the earthquake which had its origin in Mount San Jacinto, which partially destroyed the towns of San Jacinto and Hemet.
Covina families rushed from their homes and stood in the open spaces. Telegraph poles oscillated for a distance of several feet from east to west, and continued to sway for several seconds after the noise of the quake had subsided.
Mrs. Ed. Kridler, who was employed at the Havlin house that afternoon was frightened by the falling of the chimney, and rushed to the outside of the house, where she was struck on the head by a brick, but was not seriously injured. There were several cases of nervous prostration following the excitement.
Cracks were opened in some of the buildings in the business section. The Reed schoolhouse lost a part of one of the chimneys. No damage was done to gas or water mains, and there was no fires. The telephone company experienced a little trouble, which was repaired in a few minutes.
It was the hardest quake that has ever been felt in Covina since the valley was settled. An account of the damage in San Jacinto and Hemet will be found on another page.

HERE'S BIG CHANCE FOR COVINA FOLKS
Here is a chance for the people of the Covina city and valley to act—and act at once.
The first steel ship made at Los Angeles harbor is soon to sail for France. It is to be loaded with relief supplies for the French, Belgian and Serbian population. The supplies must come from Southern California.
The Pasadena branch of the French war relief has sent an appeal to the be received before May 10th. Get in touch with Mrs. Ernest Witbeck, Mrs. W. P. Nye, or call at the French relief headquarters in Covina, and contribute (in good condition) the following articles:
Agricultural implements, garden tools, vegetable seeds (beans, peas, radishes, beets, etc.), tea, coffee, sugar, cocoa, chocolate, flour, rice, crackers, biscuits, dried fruit, non-perishable foods. Make a clean-up in the house, and see that you get in touch at once with the French relief.

COVINA AUTO PARTY
TURNS OVER IN FORD
Gerald Devol, son of J. H. Devol of Covina, is suffering from a fractured collar bone, and Robert Runyan, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Runyan, is recovering from a heavy shock, as the result of turning over in a Ford car Saturday night while passing through Los Angeles.
The car was owned by R. E. Hershey of Covina, and had been rented by a party consisting of Earl Colver, Robert Runyan, Jesse Heath, Audrey Blakemore and Glenn and Gerald Devol. The others were not seriously hurt.
The machine was badly damaged, and is now under repairs at the Reliable garage. It is said that Blakemore, who was driving, avoided an approaching machine at a corner, causing the Ford to turn over.

FIND RELATIVES SAFE
AFTER EARTHQUAKE
Among those who went to San Jacinto and Hemet on Monday morning were Edith Farmer, Otto Reed, Otto Craig, Peter Fesler, Gladys Fesler, Martin Fesler and family, who made the journey to get first-hand evidence of the safety of relatives living in the valley.
A cousin of the Farmer's is proprietor of the Vosburg hotel at San Jacinto. There were no casualties anywhere in the valley. Another cousin of the Farmer's was lying in bed at the time of the quake. His wife shouted to him, and he rolled from the bed just as the chimney came down through the roof and covered the bed with bricks.
CITY RECORDER SMITH
RESIGNS POSITION
City Recorder Waldo Smith, who has been presiding over all municipal cases as local police judge, tendered his resignation to the city trustees last Tuesday evening, which was accepted. His successor has not been appointed.
The city clerk was asked to notify the Pacific Electric Railroad Company that complaints have been made concerning the alleged lack of signalling on the part of motormen when passing Barranca street. A citizen reported to the trustees that he narrowly escaped the wrecking of his automobile at that point, and that he watched several cars go by afterwards, and stated that the motorman did not blow his whistle.

NEW SERVICE FOR BAPTIST
JUNIOR CONGREGATION
On the coming Sunday morning the junior congregation of the Baptist church will follow a new order of service. The primary and junior departments, under the leadership of their respective superintendents, Mrs. Hohman and Mrs. Manning, will, at the close of their class period, march into the main auditorium, where they will remain during the junior sermon. Following this, the primary grades will be cared for during the regular church service by competent teachers in the primary rooms. A nursery department will also be conducted in connection with this, so that mothers of young children may be free to attend the morning service. All children will be welcomed in the Sunday school, and it is hoped that many mothers will avail themselves of the services of this nursery department. All parents of primary and junior pupils are especially invited and urged to come with the children to these services. There will be special music, and later it is hoped a Junior choir may be organized.

JACKSON IS TRAINING
SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND
"The women are doing all kinds of work here—working in coal mines, machine shops, driving taxicabs, ambulances, and street-cars," says W. P. Jackson of Covina, who is with the 174th aero squadron, now in training somewhere in England. He is the son of Paul Jackson of the Covina Transfer Company, and brother of Miss Helen Jackson of the Home Telephone force. Letters received by his folks are full of the interesting accounts of England.
Jackson didn't like England and the English people when he first landed, he said in a letter to his sister, but when he got into the interior of the country, he found people who were working in deadly earnest to win the war, and he began to understand them better. He says that every foot of ground that can be farmed is being planted.
Jackson says that he bought some oranges from Spain at seventy-five cents the dozen, but that they were not as good as California oranges.

BOYS WILL COLLECT
TAILS OF SQUIRRELS
Arthur A. Peters, district representative of the government poultry campaign; Robert W. Hodgson, assistant farm adviser; J. B. Vaile of a Dimas, and other speakers, met an interesting audience of ranchers at the Methodist church last Friday evening, at a meeting of the Covina Farm bureau, presided over by President H. A. Miller.
One of the important matters of the evening was the decision to pay to any boy the sum of ten cents each for the tails of the ground squirrels, and twenty-five cents for gophers. The members of the local farm bureau will pay this money if the squirrels are killed mation can be obtained from Miss Eva D. Edwards of the Reed Grammar school.
Prof. Hodgson gave a talk on pruning, and a demonstration has been arranged, with the date to be announced. The committee in charge will be Messrs. Webb, Custer, Aschenbrenner and Gail. Prof. H. J. Quayle gave a talk on the successful history of hydrocyanic acid gas in fumigating citrus trees.
Y. M. C. A. SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE NOW PAYABLE
The county Y. M. C. A. has already forwarded $11,802.63 to the State War Council of the Young Men's Christian Association. The balance of the $16,000 which was raised in the campaign last November is due and payable at this time. The headquarters office in New York City is urging a prompt payment of all outstanding pledges and the citizens of Covina are urged to send in their subscriptions at once. Payments can be made with the least trouble by sending checks to the county Y. M. C. A. office, Monrovia, made payable either to "County Y. M. C. A." or "E. P. Warner, treasurer." If preferred your check can be given to Mr. Miller, chairman of the local committee, and to any of the following men: Messrs. Warner and White, members of the county committee, and they will attend to forwarding same.

KNIGHTS RECEIVE FLAGS
FOR MEN IN SERVICE
Every member of Covina Commandery, No. 49, Knights Templar, who has a son or sons in active service received the gift of a silk flag from Acting Commander D. M. Sutherland at the joint meeting of the Covina Commandery and Southern California Commandery of Pomona, held in the Covina lodge rooms on Monday night. The flags will be sent by the members to the boys in the service.
The Templar degree was exemplified by the degree team of Southern California Commandery on Charles Gordon of Glendora.

MAKING HISTORY
OVER HERE

W HILE YOUR BOY and the boys from your home town are facing the Hun on the far-flung battle lines in France and Flanders, writing in letters of blood the history of the Great War, it becomes our sacred privilege to support them to the fullest extent of our power. While our boys are making history over there, we, by subscribing to the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, may make history over here.
President Wilson has issued a proclamation designating Friday of this week, April 26, as LIBERTY DAY, and requesting the people "to liberally pledge anew their financial support" of the government.
On this historic day, patriotic demonstrations will be held in every city, town and hamlet throughout the land to encourage the sale of Liberty Bonds. Americans on this occasion will be called upon to make additional sacrifices, if need be, to send the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN far over the appointed goal.
General Pershing, the commander of our forces overseas, says of the Third Liberty Loan: "Every dollar subscribed is a dollar invested in American manhood. Every dollar subscribed will confirm the determination of our people at home to stand by its army to a victorious end."
Get behind the President in this grave hour of the nation's history and back up General Pershing. While our boys are making history "over there," we, by oversubscribing to the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, are making history over here.

RANCHERS

WE WANT YOU TO KNOW that this company has selected and reserved enough of the best seed-bean stock to plant 10,000 acres to beans this spring. Indications are very strong that the acreage in beans in California is to be a third, possibly fifty per cent larger this year than last year, when six million bags of eighty pounds to the bag were raised and entirely consumed.

Good, carefully selected Lady Washington and Blackeye bean seed is going to be very much in demand. The Lady Washington is the finest variety for orchard planting. It takes on the average of eighteen pounds of seed to the acre, or a cost of from $2.50 to $2.75 per acre for seed.

The biggest raisers of beans in the state believe that a price of ten cents per pound, or better, is to be expected for the 1918 crop. The Associated Press recently announced that thirty-one million pounds of recleaned beans have been commandeered by the government at a price of 11 1-2 cents. The government is urging the planting of larger acreages of beans this year than last year. It is an unbeatable crop for profit in a citrus or walnut orchard, and it is a benefit to the soil.

This company will answer all communications concerning the planting and culture of beans in the San Gabriel Valley. Write us for our Bulletin No. 5, telling briefly what varieties to plant, when to plant, and the most practical cultural methods.

WHERE BOYS ARE

WELL BEHAVED.

New York boys are better behaved than their near neighbors in Jersey City or Newark. Why this should be is not apparent, but the city boy here has not only bettered his neighbor, but bettered his own record before the war. A report published in the New York Sun, by Mr. C. J. Atkinson, executive secretary of the Boys' Club Federation, shows all of this, and the statements are backed up by Judge Franklin C. Hoyt, presiding justice of the Children's Court. "There has actually been a considerable decrease in delinquency," says Judge Hoyt, in New York City. In all the warring countries of Europe the problem of juvenile delinquency has become acute, and natural, almost inevitable, causes have been assigned in explanation. Happily America is spared some of the conditions directly contributing to these causes, tho a curious variation in results is noticeable in different parts of the country:

"Boys are worse in Baltimore, Chicago, Hartford, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Jersey City, Lowell, Mass., Newark, Portland, Maine, and Spokane. They have bettered their behavior in New York, Denver, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Nashville, Seattle, St. Louis, Topeka and Worcester. They are about the same in Atlanta, Cincinnati, Dallas, Dayton, Duluth, Kansas City, Memphis, Pittsburgh, and Springfield, Mass.

"In Europe, especially within the Central Powers, the increase of juvenile delinquency is reported as appalling. In Vienna the number of crimes committed by boys and girls under eighteen in 1915-16 was 340 per cent greater than in 1914-15. In Allied nations the increase in delinquency seems to be anywhere from 35 to 65 per cent. Mr. Atkinson gives the following reasons for this increase:

"Whatever may be the situation across the water, the fact is that there has been no general increase in the United States. A study of the increase in European countries has resulted in assigning certain very definite causes, the chief of which are: (1) Absence of fathers of large families at the front; (2) increased burdens placed upon the mother in supporting the family; (3) complete darkening of streets necessitated by the airplane raids; (4) curtailing or stopping entirely of boy-betterment activities because of false economy of lack of workers.

"It is reassuring to note that the first three causes do not obtain here, and that while the fourth condition is already apparent, steps are not only being taken to check it, but to increase greatly the activities for boy betterment."—The Literary Digest.

Red Cross

Today (Friday) in Los Angeles there will be an important meeting of the Red Cross for all workers and those interested in the cause. This meeting will be held at 3:30 at Red Cross Headquarters, corner of Tenth and Main, Los Angeles. It is hoped that this notice does not appear too late to induce several from Covina to attend. It is the very best way to get first hand information and to learn directly of the needs and requirements for our branch.

The Executive board of the Red Cross feels particularly grateful to the French Relief committee for the benefit given for the Red Cross last Saturday afternoon. The splendid sum of $116.00 was raised in an apparently easy manner with great enjoyment to the many who attended the dance.

Mrs. R. M. Douglass has consented to take charge of the making of aviator jackets, which is a branch of the Red Cross work hitherto not undertaken by the Covina branch. Mrs. Douglass urges all citizens of Covina to save old kid gloves for the lining of these jackets, leather sofa pillow covers and other leather that may be utilized, leaving it at Red Cross headquarters as soon as possible.

The last report of made garments secured by the publicity committee was as follows, for one week's industry: Eleven bed jackets for convalescent soldiers; twenty-three pajamas; two knitted helmets; two mufflers; twenty-one socks; ten sweaters; eleven wristlets. There were 950 surgical dressings made during the week.

When the garment inspector from Los Angeles visited Covina Branch she stated that she was very much pleased with the quality of the work which is above the average.

A drive is being made, and the committee hopes to reach everyone in the valley, for monthly subscriptions to the local Red Cross branch. "Every little bit helps" and even the slightest bit will help to keep the work rooms open. In many cases ten cents a week is being given and sums up into the dollars. If you have not been asked to contribute and feel that you can do so, leave your name at the Red Cross rooms or with Mrs. Prather at 123.

Tea tables will be presided over by the young ladies, and a musical program will be a part of the afternoon's entertainment. One attraction will be the display of roses from "Eoslands," the home of Mr. George W. Griffiths.

The show will extend over the evening, and a cafeteria supper will be served at 6 o'clock. This will consist entirely of home-cooked foods.

The proceeds of the entire day will go to the bond fund for the purchase of Liberty bonds.

Liberty Dance and Card Party—

The Liberty dance and card party to be given Saturday evening by the Monday Afternoon Club promises to be a very successful affair. The proceeds are to go toward buying Liberty bonds, and the committee, with Mrs. E. V. Rice as chairman, is very anxious to have a good attendance. The club women have been very generous in loaning the club-house and giving assistance to all benefits, and hope that other societies will feel that they can assist in making this dance a financial success. One of the features of the affair will be the fancy dances by Crystal Levine and Velora Tucker, pupils of Miss Bertha Yeend of Pomona. A four-piece orchestra will furnish the music, and card tables will be presided over by a member of the committee.

The program will be made up of some of the best talent from Los Angeles assisted by local talent. Miss Annis Howell, a coloratura soprano and soloist at the Trinity Auditorium, will sing. Miss Howell was formerly the soloist of Dr. Francis' church in Los Angeles and she ranks among Los Angeles' best. Miss Ethel Gray, among the best amateur pianists of Los Angeles, will also give numbers. Miss Helen Broadwell and Miss Dorothy King, both of this city, will also appear. Miss Bertha Yeend of Pomona, who has been conducting dancing classes in Covina, will give a number of interpretive dances, and she will also present Velora Tucker and Crystal Levine in some new dances.

STATE AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION
DEFINITELY LAUNCHES INSIGNIA

CALIFORNIA ORGANIZATION OF ALL GARAGES AND AGENCIES MEETS AT POMONA, AND ANNOUNCES POLICY FOR PROTECTION OF PUBLIC—MOST SIGNIFICANT MOVE THAT THIS BUSINESS HAS TAKEN SINCE AUTOS BECAME A UTILITY—COVINA AND PUENTE MEN PARTICIPATE PROMINENTLY—SPLENDID BANQUET AND CLASS A VAUDEVILLE ENTERTAINMENT.

If there is another organization of any kind in California with as much red blood in it as the California Automobile Trade Association, it is yet to appear on the local horizon. If there ever was a welcome surprise in this end of the county it was the manner in which the big convention of this association was carried out at Pomona last Friday, when delegates from practically every county in the state gathered to discuss automobile and garage problems. There were a few guests outside of the association, and these will never forget the spirit and pep of the affair.

With the motto, "Support those who support us," and with a determination to standardize and guarantee the work of garages belonging to the association, the men, numbering some three hundred, went on record at the afternoon session as supporting the new insignia which is to appear above the doors of all garages of members, and which will stand for protection, not only of the garage-owner, but of the general public. This insignia, a photograph of which appears in a special advertisement in this issue, is thoroughly explained in the advertisement. It is one of the biggest movements for the general good that has ever come into the automobile business.

Practically all the garages of Pomona, Covina, Puente, El Monte, Baldwin Park, Azusa, Glendora, and all points north and east of Pomona were represented, as well as big delegations from Los Angeles, Long Beach and other coast cities. The northern part of the state was well represented, as this association embraces all the members of the craft in the state. From Covina there were present: E. G. Hotchkiss and Fred Clarke of the Reliable garage, together with employees of the shop; H. N. Webber of the Webber garage, and employees; George Fraipont of the Covina Vulcanizing Shop; Iven Reynolds, Buick agency for the valley; Emil Sedlacek and son of the Mission garage; Otis Keeling, secretary-manager of the Covina Garage & Machine Shop Association; E. F. Lowery of the Puente garage; Ed Curry of the Curry garage of Puente, and employees of these garages.

The sessions were presided over by J. E. Sloan, president of the organization, of San Jose, and Robert W. Martland, state secretary, was the live-wire of the day. The state association was the guest of the Pomona Valley Auto Trades Association, which is affiliated with the state body, and whose officers are: Leo B. Matthews, president, Pomona; C. H. DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS TONIGHT IN
COMEDY, "REACHING FOR THE MOON"

"Reaching for the Moon," Douglas Fairbanks' latest production for Artcraft, shown at the Star theater tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday matinee, was written by Anita Loos and John Emerson, expressly for the noted star, who fairly revels in the part of Alexis, a youth occupying a humble position in a button factory until he discovered he was the missing heir to a European throne. After that has been lavished with this production, which is crammed full of humorous situations and thrilling incidents. The adventures of Alexis are extremely trying, and Fairbanks is afforded ample opportunity of displaying

Lieutenant's Story
From French Front

March 24, 1918.

Dear Father:
Your last letter received was of Feb. 1. I have also received an Argus of same date. The papers keep straggling in, but there are a lot of them that have never reached me.

Well, to all purposes I have finished my course of instruction here and have received the rating of "very good." The next thing is to await orders to go to the French front with a French squadron for three weeks. In addition to this I would like to be detailed to the school of aerial gunnery in the south of France, but I hardly look for that to come through, and will likely go to the front without that training. The aerial gunnery school is small and they are specializing on the training of fighting observers, so that there is not much chance for any corps observers to get the work.

Lieutenant Barrows and myself were down this afternoon to call on Captain I., who is second in command of one of the squadrons on the post. I have known him for some time and like him very much. He has been flying over here for three years with the French and Belgians, and knows a lot about observation. He has requested that we both be attached to the squadron he is in. Barrows formerly lived in Northhoff and is a University of California man.

We had something of a disappointment last night when we learned that the biggest thing ever attempted in maneuvers by our army had been called off. The maneuver was to be between two divisions, and we were all fixed to leave here today to fly to a base a considerable distance south. Two squadrons from here with six planes each, with a pilot and observer for each were slated to do the liaison and reconnaissance. Those of us out of some seventy observers here who were going were very busy yesterday getting everything in shape to leave. The maneuver was to have lasted seven days, and would have given us some good experience. The maneuver may yet take place, but with the big activity up front now, I hardly look for it to happen.

I had expected to get over to Nancy this week-end, until I was slated to go on this other work that did not materialize. That city is close enough to be rather uncomfortable at times.

We expected Secretary Baker and General Pershing here this past week, but have not seen them yet.

There is one thing we all feel sure of, and that is a big fight on this summer. I hope that our air service will come through and do their share.

I had a letter from Tom Douglas a short time ago. He said he would get over to see me if he got close. I would enjoy meeting him.

I did not go to see the Lord Mayor of London when there on my way over. I hope to get over to England on permission some time, and then I will see him. I will then have seen action. I want to get up to Edinburgh. The seventeenth of next month will make four months since I left the states. I will be due for seven days permission, but do not think I will take it at the first opportunity.

We have been having fine weather lately. This is just like one of your fine spring Sunday afternoons. There is nothing to do here in your leisure time. It is about a half mile down the hill to a little town, but every house with its barn adjoining has a manure pile stacked outside. There are few men in the towns, and things are not in as good shape as they would be in peace times.

I will be interested to hear what Gordon's plans are for the spring. I am in hopes that my mail will reach me quicker via Paris. I can keep them informed as to my moves. Your news about the orange market and orchard conditions are always interesting. I thank the neighbors for asking about me.

I have just got today's paper and have been reading about the big drive on the British front. It is a critical time. There is also an account of the gun firing 75 miles on Paris yesterday. I will be interested to hear more about it from people from Paris. One of the boys here has just had a letter from his people in Redlands telling of the big wind up around Highland.

I think of all of you at all times. Love to Auntie and Jane.

Your loving son,

HOWARD.

It Means

Learn what it means in value and service to you. It stands for a square deal; for cooperation in a business of automobile agencies, repairing and supplying of accessories.

California Automobile Trade Association Aims and Objective

The California Automobile Trade Association, of which the Pomona Valley Association is a unit, is an organization of those engaged in the various allied lines pertinent to the retail sale, distribution, and repair of automobiles and accessories, in a co-operative effort to scourge from their ranks all engaged in or attempting to engage in the automobile or garage business in a manner that would be or is detrimental to the upbuilding of the trade, to improve and maintain the maximum of harmony among the allied trade lines, and to assist on a broad gauge basis in implanting a feeling of absolute confidence and trustworthiness, not only between themselves, but between themselves and the touring public.

One of the mediums through which they hope to bring some measure of this about is in the recent adoption of an "insignia" which will soon appear at the entrance to every qualified and well intentioned dealer in the state.

"Your Protection"

The insignia will convey the message "Your Protection," and will mean that at any time any automobile driver, be he a member of any touring club or not, feels that he has been overcharged or mistreated in such a place, he may take the matter up at once, direct, without legal aid or cost, with the local secretary and the charge will be immediately inquired into by a committee and exact justice be insisted upon---the blame fall where it may---and, if necessary, appropriate refund be made.

If you deal with a firm displaying this emblem, the California Automobile Trade Association, consisting of over 2500 members, will guarantee you fair treatment.

Earthquake Fragments From a Visit to Hemet and San Jacinto

(By J. L. Matthews.)
Two villages in ruins.
But thousands of acres of alfalfa as tall as a man's hip boots, ready for the second cutting of the year, and more crops to follow.
Streets piled with powdered concrete and brick rubble. But everywhere, north, south, east and west of the little towns the light green of the apricot and peach orchards in new leafage, approaching the time when the valley will employ thousands in the canneries. Wealth everywhere, new wealth from the soil, unscathed by any disaster, and eventually to find its way to the allied armies in Europe, with which to win the war.
This is in reality the situation in San Jacinto and Hemet—in that marvelous valley of production. The earthquake of last Sunday, which destroyed practically all the brick buildings of San Jacinto, and damaged many of the same communications had been bad, and these towns are more than one hundred miles from Los Angeles. In the afternoon thousands arrived in a steady stream of automobiles.

On arriving in Hemet, we found the town in the hands of the Home Guards, under the command of the mayor, and there were not more than three or four hundred people in sight. The principal business street was roped off. No attempts were being made to straighten out the tangled business conditions, excepting that Postmaster King, who is also the editor and owner of the Hemet News, had established a temporary post office in a garage. Merchants were standing and sitting around, forbidden to open up, because of the dangerous condition of some of the buildings. Several buildings on the principal street were minus roofs. The pressed brick front of the bank building was in a wobbly condition, with a big gouge at home with the exception of a few. And the homes of the valley are frame cottages. Earthquakes will cause a frame cottage to waltz and two-step in a most disturbing way, but they seldom fall in and kill people. It is the brick building that in an earthquake will crumble as if hit by a dozen German shells.

The Home Guards in Hemet were taking life very seriously. At one corner a youth of sixteen was on guard to see that no curious person should pass. He was partially arrayed in regulation khaki, and he had resurrected from God knows where a Civil war musket, with a bayonet about three feet long. The groups of people in his zone stood at a respectful distance, and recalled days of the charge up Lookout Mountain.
On the corner by the bank we encountered the Home Guard captain, who deprecated the taking of pictures of the ruined buildings, for he was thinking for Mr. Hearst to help rebuild a town, an American town, as he has offered to build French towns, only the people of San Jacinto would probably not take kindly to the notion. San Jacinto is a town of a block and a half, shaped like a carpenter's square. And every brick building is either flat on the ground, or with bare walls standing. The old California wooden buildings had their insides well shaken and windows broken, but they settled back again in about the same attitude of dejection as is usual with this type of structure wherever found in the towns of the Pacific coast. The flimsier their construction the more proof they seem to be against earthquakes.

Half a block of buildings that sheltered the goods of a department store, drug store and other stores of the common type of country towns, was in utter ruins—just a heap of brick and timber which covered the stock of goods.

ing, although damaged. The office of the San Jacinto Register, a weekly paper owned and edited by Chester M. Kline, who represents his district in the state legislature, was minus its front windows, and the roof in the rear had crashed in. The linotype machine, which weighs about a ton, was slewed around on the cement floor for a distance of about eighteen inches, and one job press had keeled over. A small mountain of paper had cascaded over the floor. The clock on the wall had dived to an angle of forty-five, and had stopped at exactly twenty-five minutes of four.
NEW ARTESIAN WELLS.
The Superintendent of the San Jacinto Land & Water Company was a guest at the hotel, and he said that some of the pumping wells of the company had become artesian wells since the quake. Lands were being flooded by a steady flow of water where originally it had same—a fit of indigestion on the part of old Mount San Jacinto, which rears its head above the valley, and which is subject to chronic disturbances in the interior. It is known as a sealed volcano, with its crater still to be easily discerned, and the earthquake "fault" from this mountain runs through the valley, and includes the city of San Bernardino, where, in the last quake, several thousand dollars worth of damage was done. Nowhere in Southern California was there any loss of life from actual earthquake causes.

GOODS NOT DAMAGED.
W. B. Broadwell of Covina, who conducts a chain of dry goods stores, with one in Hemet, was not damaged a dollar's worth, excepting in the loss of a day or two of trade. The building where his large store is located only precipitated a quantity of plaster over his goods. Manager Anderson had things going well on Tuesday.

type in Hemet, caused a loss to a number of individuals, to whom it was serious enough. It is very undesirable to have a brick building distribute itself all over a stock of dry goods, but such a happening as that in San Jacinto and Hemet last Sunday has about as much damaging influence on the business of the valley as the blowing down of a commissary tent would have on the fighting strength of a regiment. The ruin of buildings, together with the damaging of mercantile stock will hit a few merchants hard for awhile in both towns.
FIRST TREMOR AT 3.35.
Representatives of the Covina Argus drove to Hemet and San Jacinto, a distance of seventy-five miles, on Monday morning. In the early morning there were few machines on the boulevards that led out of Riverside to these villages. The first intimation to the public of the destruction of these towns had come through the morning papers, and the news was vague. Telephone in one side where a corner had fallen into the street. The people told us that a meeting was in progress in the opera house at the time of the quake, but that all the people fled out in orderly fashion, although the building adjoining had fallen in. There was not a single casualty of any kind.

Miss Leanta Stafford, daughter of Postmaster Stafford of Covina, is a grammar school teacher at Hemet. We found her in the temporary post office, engaged in helping in various ways, and her face glowed with excitement as she recounted a few of the incidents of the previous day. Her flock of school children were having a holiday. It was an adventure which Miss Stafford can remember all her life, something that does not happen to everyone, and fortunately devoid of the tragic. She was filled with thankfulness that the temblor came at a time when the public and business buildings were deserted. It came at the quietest period of a quiet Sunday, when everyone was in terms of the Hemet Chamber of Commerce, and thought that perhaps worldwide publicity of the quake would hurt the tourist trade.

"The movie boys were in here at sun-up this morning," he said, sadly. "I told 'em they couldn't take pictures, but they went right ahead, and then I told 'em if they took pictures they would be arrested. One smart young fellow says:
- "Cap, I'll tell yer what we'll do. We'll go ahead and take the pictures, and then you arrest us. What do yer say? So, what could yer do after that? We had to let 'em go ahead, but we told 'em that if they wanted to see real ruin they'd have to go on to San Jacinto."
It was the first time in years that Hemet was in a mood to allow San Jacinto to have something. They wished the earthquake off on the rival town, three miles away.
CHANCE FOR MR. HEARST.
There is opportunity in San Jacinto

There seemed to be a different system at work in San Jacinto, however. In Hemet there was no activity, on account of some official taboo. But in San Jacinto workmen were making a beginning at lifting some of the debris from the store stocks, and the police seemed to take it for granted that the visitors had no dangerous designs on the town.
About the only human beings who seemed to have been in the village when the quake began were the people at the hotel, a wooden structure which was undamaged, and the telephone girls in the Oddfellows building. While this building collapsed entirely, the girls were miraculously saved from being crushed when the roof settled diagonally over them. They were hauled out by some Mexicans, and only one girl was slightly hurt.
CASES OF PIED TYPE.
On the north side of the street a row of wooden buildings and structures partially made of brick, were still stand-been lifted by power. He did not seem to be greatly disturbed by the situation. Up in the mountains above the town on the south, a couple of miners in a magnesite mine were entombed all during Sunday night by a cave-in. Volunteers from San Jacinto and Hemet dug a hole through to them Sunday night, letting in air, and on Monday morning they were rescued, none the worse for their experience.

Hemet and San Jacinto will bring forth the usual great crop of foodstuffs for man and beast this year. There will be two thousand men and girls in the valley this summer to put up the peaches and other deciduous fruits, and the bales of alfalfa will go forth, perhaps to make glad the hearts of army mules somewhere in France. God has been good to these towns, in that no person was sacrificed.
Eighteen years ago San Jacinto was shaken down by a quake of about the same severity, or a little worse, the old inhabitants say. The cause was the WEST COVINA.

"Pandora," a dainty little operetta, will be given Friday evening, May 3rd, in the club-house by the pupils of the grammar school under the direction of the teachers. $50 is the aim set by the Junior Red Cross to be made from this entertainment. There will be a candy and pop corn booth in the hall. Following is the cast of characters: Ada Ayers and Millie Watts, Pandora; Earl Gray, Epimetheus; Raymond Allison, Quicksilver; Clarence Hoar, Cupid, or "Love"; Dorothy Jackley, "Hope"; Alice Maxson, Mary Akers; Marjorie Newton, Virgie Pratt; Edith Maxson and Arlene Hotchkiss, chorus, "Little Troubles," Frances Kranz, Pearl and Helen Von der Lohe, Evelyn Maxson, Carrie Wagner, Ethel Pratt, Marjorie Stafford, and Helen Meyer.

The contest in the grammar school to see which side could make the most garments for the French Relief came to an exciting finish this week, with the result that 411 garments were made and turned into the school for delivery to the French Relief. The two upper rooms, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, were divided into two parts, the "Willing Workers" under the leadership of Ada Ayers, and the "Workers For Democracy," under the leadership of Alice Maxson. It was the latter team that won. The children of the first, second and third grades have been busy making hospital pillows, of which they have made twelve. The boys of the school have also been giving their time making canes for the convalescent wards and gathering magazines and newspaper, of which they report about two tons.

The death occurred last Friday, April 19, of Israel Wolsey, 57, brother of Walter Wolsey of Lark Ellen street, at the Glendale sanitarium, of heart trouble. Mr. Wolsey had been in poor health for some weeks, and had been under treatment for some time. He was a resident of The Palms, where he owned and operated a ranch prior to his death. A sister and daughter, Mrs. Strong, of Lawrence, Kansas, were present at the time of his death. The funeral was held Monday from the undertaking parlors of Breesee Bros. in Los Angeles. He had no family.

Miss Mary Stettin of Los Angeles was an over-Sunday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kranz.

Miss M. Seaman has been confined to her bed this week with an attack of ptomaine poison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taschner, Miss Elfrida Taschner and Mr. Sherman Taschner were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Jaroch in Los Angeles Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Von der Lohe and family were guests Sunday of Mr. Albert Stoll in Los Angeles.

Miss Frances Dula is entertaining Miss Constance Ricketts of Covina this week.

Mr. Gandy of Los Angeles was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gray, Monday.

Earl Howard of Fort MacArthur spent Monday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. Dutton and daughter, Miss Claire Dutton, visited Fort MacArthur last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bridge of Whittier were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher spent Saturday night and Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Fisher, in Long Beach.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The first League game in baseball will be played here Thursday, with Glendora. There were two games played with Puente last week. We won the game that counted, and the other was a practice game won by Puente. A league of farmers met a few days ago, and agreed that they would give to the pupils ten cents for every squirrel tail and twenty-five cents for every gopher pelt. These animals are harmful and destroy the crops. The money earned in this way will be invested in Thrift Stamps.

The children of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are writing four minute speeches of about four hundred words on Thrift stamps and War Saving Stamps. A few boys and girls have been selected to give their speeches orally in assembly.

We have now a total amount of $1558 in Thrift stamps and War-savings certificates. There are 293 pupils who own Thrift cards and War-Savings certificates.

FRENCH RELIEF BOOSTS COVINA RED CROSS

Successful from every viewpoint was the dansant given at the Monday Afternoon Club house on Saturday afternoon by the French Relief Committee for the benefit of the Covina Branch of the Red Cross.

The dancing room was gay with many flags and white flowers—bridal wreath, spirea and lilies—effectively arranged by Mrs. C. E. Crawford of the committee. Mrs. Ernest Witbeck as chairman of French Relief work in Covina had the novel affair in charge and the complete success is largely due to her.

From the beginning of the afternoon the Blue Moon orchestra played at intervals, and quite early prettily gowned girls of the younger set were dancing with their partners. Later the floor was comfortably filled with the older dancers who yielded to the lure of the syncopated music. Tea tables were arranged about the margins of the large room. Iced tea and cakes were served to all by the committee consisting of Mrs. Witbeck, Mrs. B. P. Malsi, Mrs. J. V. Eliot, Mrs. M. D. Philleo and the Misses Lilian Douglass and Augusta Sanders, who wore their hair in piquant French fashion with black bows. Their aprons showed the tri-color, the red, white and blue, which is our own, and the blue, white and red of our ally.

Prior Letchworth did a thriving business throughout the afternoon for the good cause, selling $11 worth of potted plants to replenish spring gardens.

The best of comradeship was in evidence among the very young and the older ones alike. This feeling reached its climax in appreciation of the cabaret features, which were interspersed with dances. Miss Leta Nash, Messrs. Francis Miller and Lloyd Porter, dressed as gipsy troubadours, strolled about singing the ballads of the present day. They lured many a quarter from the pockets of the listeners—yes, even half dollars and more went rolling at their feet. This started the ball to rolling, and when Mrs. Henry Marshall, becomingly gowned in pale green and cream lace, shepherdess fashion, sang in her lovely contralto, the response was enthusiastic. She needed to requisition help to pick up the silver showered at her feet. Her rhythmic recitation of "Tis a Little Bit of Heaven" was particularly pleasing, and when she sang "What Are You Going to Do for Uncle Sam?" with the Liberty Bond posters for her adornment, she repeated to satisfy the patriotic group.

No less was the appreciation for Davina Woods, the very diminutive Scottish lassie, whose dimpled arms and knees flashed in the Highland fling and the famous sword dance of the Scottish people. Both of these were so skillfully as well as gracefully executed that the little five-year-old was compelled to do it again when it would seem as though her black velvet "bonnet" would be filled to overflowing with the coins, all given for the help of our boys, "Over There."

Little Davina's big grandfather, William Kirk, played many an air on the bag-pipes, marching about the floor in his full regalia, much to the delight of all. His patriotic speech made every one feel that each must do more than his bit to kill not only the "big rattle snake," but remove the fangs of the whole brood.

It is safe to say that never in the history of Covina was so much money thrown—not away, but for a glorious cause—as rolled upon the floor of the club house last Saturday afternoon. With the admission at the door normal, and tea served free, $116.00 was cleared for the benefit of the Red Cross.

TRACTOR EXHIBITION HERE TOMORROW.

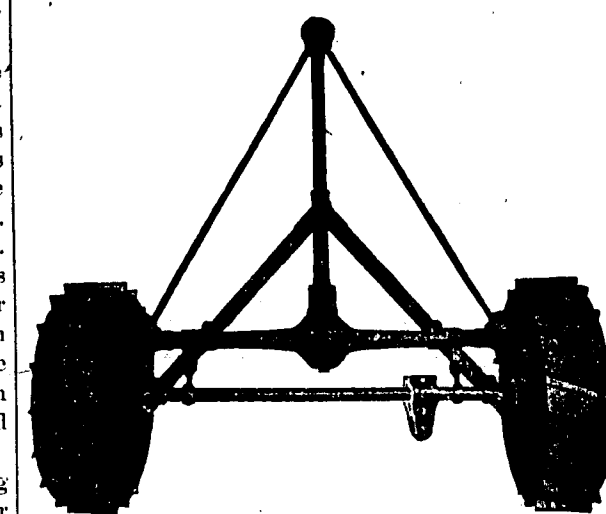

At the Roselands ranch of George W. Griffiths on Lark Ellen street, near the junction of Rowland avenue, there will be a tractor demonstration on Saturday (tomorrow) from ten in the morning until four in the afternoon. It is a demonstration of what is known as the Los Angeles Auto Tractor Attachment, which is handled locally by E. G. Hotchkiss, the Ford agent.

This same attachment was demonstrated every day and far into the night from the 17th to the 20th of this month at the Davis farm, connected with the agricultural college of the University of California. It is said that over 50,000 saw the attachment in operation. There were thirty-five different tractors in the demonstration.

The steadily-growing success of the attachment idea is caused through the fact that soils differ and therefore call for different tractor treatment. When the attachment is built especially for the particular needs of the rancher, as is this case, it is sure to be more satisfactory than a tractor built as a blanket proposition for the whole country. Any kind of automobile can be utilized in making these tractors. The Ford is the car used most extensively, because it is cheaper in operation, and there are more of them. The attachments are to be made on order and fitted to local conditions by Mr. Hotchkiss at the local garage.
